Move on When Ready Textbook Policy

As per the new Move on When Ready Act, effective July 1, 2015, the Georgia State University MOWR (Dual Enrollment and Early College) book policy has been updated to reflect the guidelines.

On April 30, 2015, Governor Deal signed Senate Bill (SB) 132 into law with an effective date of July 1, 2015. SB 132, also known as the 'Move on When Ready Act', streamlines the existing dual enrollment programs (Accel, HOPE Grant for dual enrollment, and Move on When Ready) into one program with one funding source. These guidelines are intended to supplement the program information provided in SB 132 and the Move on When Ready (MOWR) program regulations provided by the Georgia Student Finance Commission (GSFC).

Book Loan Program

Beginning fall 2015, the Georgia State University Bookstore will loan required textbooks to each student enrolled in the Move on When Ready (program each semester, with the agreement that the textbooks will be returned to Georgia State University at the end of each semester. You will need to bring the textbook check out form below with your class schedule listed.

Should students fail to return or damage the issued books, they will be assessed a fine of up to $75.00 or the cost of the book minus the book allowance, whichever is less.

Students who do not remit payment to Georgia State University will have a financial hold placed on their account. Having this hold on the student’s account will prevent:

1. the student from returning to Georgia State University (i.e. withdrawing the student from their full schedule of classes);
2. the student from requesting any Georgia State University transcripts vital for future college applications.

All students and parents must sign below acknowledging an understanding of the new MOWR (Dual Enrollment and Early College) Textbook Policy prior to selecting books. This form should be completed during orientation. If you have already attended orientation, you must bring it with you to the GSU Bookstore in order to select your textbooks. This policy acknowledgement form only needs to be signed once to cover the student’s entire MOWR (Dual Enrollment and Early College) tenure at Georgia State University. Failure to sign and return the form will result in the non-issuance of Georgia State University textbooks.

My signature below indicates that I understand the new state Move on When Ready (MOWR) Book Policy and will adhere to the policies set forth in this agreement. Failure to do so will result in the above consequences.
